Wesleyan's Distinction – What Wes does well.

- Curricular Innovations – students are educated to become independent thinkers capable of translating their learning into effective work. Combinations of freedom and productivity, experimentation and evaluation stimulate students to discover what they love to do.
- Center for Research and Creative Practice- undergraduates are given opportunities for advanced independent work. Members of the Wesleyan community are able to address scholarly issues of great significance to their respective fields and produce work that has a positive impact on public life.
- Productive Civic Engagement – Wesleyan inspires students to play active roles as neighbors and citizens. Alumni create opportunities to integrate service into their professional and personal lives and many go on to distinguished careers in public service. The University provides support for disseminating scholarship that can have positive public impact.
