Brief description of collection:

The Kids on the Block Conference/Oddfellows Playhouse Collection, compiled by attendant Luis Torres of the Oddfellows Playhouse, contains material from the 1997 Kids on the Block Conference. Kids on the Block is a not for profit organization that designs educational puppet programs for teaching children and adolescents about social issues. This collection consists of various programming material from the conference, including the weekend's agenda, funding information, puppeteer training workshop handbook and a completion certificate, planning details of future/current KoB programs, and various catalogues order forms for the KoB store.
