Center for the Arts  www.wesleyan.edu/cfa

Spend an afternoon at the Davison Art Center or Zilkha Gallery, go to a film screening, or attend world-class performances right here at Wesleyan. In addition to the professional productions brought to Wesleyan by the Center for the Arts, there are annual performances of Chinese Classical Music, South Indian Carnatic Music, Japanese Taiko Drumming, Balinese and Javanese Music and Dance, West African Drumming and Dance, and more. And, of course, there are any number of undergraduate productions in theater, music, dance and film. Since so many alumni are regularly nominated for – and win – Tonys, Emmys and Oscars, student work is well worth the trip!

Russell House  www.wesleyan.edu/eventscheduling/therussellhouse

The Russell House offers a series of lectures, readings, talks and musical performances. Visit their website for more information!

Center for the Humanities  www.wesleyan.edu/chum

Wesleyan’s Center for the Humanities is a renowned center of learning, hosting scholars and fellows across many disciplines. Be sure to check out their annual lecture series.

Freeman Athletic Center  www.wesleyan.edu/athletics

Freeman Athletic Center houses an ice rink, field house, squash courts, Olympic-size pool, state of the art fitness center, and more. With your ID, and a quick check online of the facility hours, you will have access to all that the center has to offer. GLS students often support Wesleyan’s NESCAC teams. If you have a favorite sport, let us know - we'll host a meet-up!
