Dear Wesleyan Parents,

Welcome to the 2016–2017 academic year at Wesleyan! The arrival of your students brings a renewed excitement and enthusiasm to campus, but it may also raise questions and concerns for you as parents. The Office of Alumni and Parent Relations is pleased to provide you with this Handbook for Parents, which we hope will become an indispensable resource as the year progresses. It includes vital information on academic advising, residential life, health services, and campus dining services, as well as a quick guide to area accommodations and restaurants.

In addition, our website—wesleyan.edu/parents—provides a wide array of information intended especially for parents, including reminders about deadlines and other topics of interest. When you have a question and you’re not sure whom to call, contact us. If we don’t know the answer, we’ll find someone who does.

Withdrawing parents volunteers, the Office of Alumni and Parent Relations also serves as a liaison for parents interested in becoming involved in Wesleyan activities, both on campus and in your local area. Additionally, parents and alumni are invited to Wesleyan events happening around the globe. We encourage you to participate and know you will find it to be rewarding.

If you need assistance not found in this guide, or have additional questions, suggestions or comments, please don’t hesitate to contact us at 860-685-3756 or send an e-mail to parents@wesleyan.edu.

This handbook is provided to parents for their general information only. It does not constitute a contract, either expressed or implied, and is subject to change at the University’s discretion.

Dear Wesleyan Parents,

Welcome to Wesleyan’s 185th academic year! Ours is a community committed to boldness and rigor, idealism and effectiveness. As president (and also a classroom teacher), I take enormous satisfaction in the excellence and drive of your daughters and sons as they rise to challenges and take advantage of the extraordinary opportunities Wesleyan provides. Working at a high level with our dedicated teacher-scholars, they develop their capacities to lead rewarding lives and make a positive difference in the world.

Participating in the life of the university will help you support your student during this transformative process. This is your university now, too, and you can take much of what goes on here on our website (wesleyan.edu). The homepage has a link for PARENTS that will lead you to many resources. I recommend that you check out our online campus news site (www.wesleyan.edu), highlighting campus news, events, and faculty/student achievements. If you are interested in a “presidential perspective,” you can subscribe to my blog. (wesleyanblogs.wesleyan.edu) or follow me on Twitter @mroth87. If you want a taste of what students are experiencing in the classroom, you can sign up for a free Wesleyan CourseMap at coursemap.wesleyan.edu.

I look forward to getting to know you, and I encourage you to take the opportunity when on campus to meet fellow parents and other members of the Wesleyan family.

All the best,

Michael S. Roth ’78
President

WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY: A BRIEF HISTORY

Wesleyan University was founded in 1831 by Methodist leaders and Middletown citizens. Instruction began with 48 students of varying ages, the president, three professors, and one tutor; tuition was $36 per year.

Today Wesleyan offers instruction in 46 departments and 45 major fields of study, awards the bachelor of arts and graduate degrees. The master of arts degree and the doctor of philosophy are regularly awarded in 11 fields of study. Students may choose from more than 900 courses each year and may be counted upon to devise, with the faculty, some 800 individual tutorials and lessons.

The student body is made up of approximately 2,200 full-time undergraduates and 156 graduate students, as well as 85 part-time students in Graduate Liberal Studies. An ongoing faculty of more than 300 is joined each semester by a distinguished group of visiting artists and professors. But despite Wesleyan’s growth, today’s student/instructor ratio remains at 8 to 1, and about three quarters of all courses enroll fewer than 20 students.

Named for John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, Wesleyan is among the oldest of the original Methodist institutions of higher education in the United States. The Methodist movement was particularly important for its early emphasis on social support and education, and from its inception, Wesleyan offered a liberal arts program rather than theological training. Wesleyan’s first president, Wilbur Fisk, a prominent Methodist educator, set out an enduring theme at his inaugural address in September 1831. President Fisk stated that education serves two purposes: “the good of the individual educated and the good of the world.” Student and faculty involvement in a wide range of community-service activities reflected President Fisk’s goals in the 19th century and continues to do so today.

Wesleyan has been known for curricular innovations since its founding. At a time when classical studies dominated the American college curriculum, emulating the European model, President Fisk sought to put modern languages, literature, and natural sciences on an equal footing with the classics. When Judd Hall, now home to the Psychology Department, was built in 1878, it was one of the first American college buildings designed to be dedicated wholly to scientific study. Since the 1860s, Wesleyan’s faculty has focused on original research and publication in addition to teaching.

The earlier Wesleyan students were all male, primarily Methodist, and almost exclusively white. From 1872 to 1912, Wesleyan was a pioneer in the field of coeducation, admitting a limited number of women to study and earn degrees alongside the male students. Coeducation succumbed to the pressure of male alumni, some of whom believed that it diminished Wesleyan’s standing in comparison with its academic peers. In 1911, some of Wesleyan’s alumni helped to found the Connecticut College for Women in New London to help fill the void left when Wesleyan closed its doors to women.

Ties to the Methodist church, which were particularly strong in the earliest years and from the 1870s to the 1890s, waned in the 20th century. Wesleyan became fully independent of the Methodist church in 1937. Under the leadership of Victor L. Butterfield, who served as president from 1943 to 1967, interdisciplinary study flourished. The Center for Advanced Studies (now the Center for the Humanities) brought to campus outstanding scholars and public figures who worked closely with both faculty and students. Graduate Liberal Studies, founded in 1935, is the oldest program of its kind and grants the master of arts in liberal studies (MAL) and the master of philosophy in liberal arts (MPHil) degrees. In the same period, the undergraduate interdisciplinary programs, the College of Letters, the College of Social Studies, and the now-defunct College of Quantitative Studies, were inaugurated. Wesleyan’s model program in world music, or ethnomusicology, also dates from this period. Doctoral programs in the sciences and ethnomusicology were insti- tuted in the early 1960s.

During the 1960s, Wesleyan began actively to recruit students of color. A number of Wesleyan faculty, students, and staff were active in the Civil Rights Movement, and the Reverend Martin Luther King Jr. visited campus several times. By 1968, women were again admitted as exchange or transfer students. In 1970, the first female students were admitted to Wesleyan’s freshman class since 1870. The center of coeducation heralded a dramatic expansion in the size of the student body, and gender parity was achieved within several years.

Wesleyan’s programs and facilities expanded as well, and new interdisciplinary centers were developed. The Center for African American Studies, which grew out of the African American Institute (founded in 1989), was established in 1974. The Center for the Arts, home of the University’s visual and performing arts departments and performance series, was designated by prominent architects Kevin Roche and John Dinkeloo and opened in the fall of 1975. The Mannes Freeman Center for East Asian Studies was established in 1987. The Center for the Americas, which combines American studies and Latin American studies, was inaugurated in 1998. The Center for Film Studies, with state-of-the-art projection and production facilities, opened in 2004.

An addition to the Freeman Athletic Center opened in 2005 with the 1,200-seat Siloway Gymnasium for basketball and volleyball, the 7,500-square-foot Anderson Fitness Center, and the Rosenbaum Squash Center with eight courts.

Fall 2007 marked the opening of the Suzanne Lemieux Udall University Center and the adjacent renovated Fayerweather building, which retains the towers of the original Fayerweather structure as part of its facade. The Udall University Center overlooks Andrus Field (home of Cowin Stadium and Dresser Diamond), College Row, and Olm Lith, and houses dining facilities for students and faculty, seminar and meeting spaces, the Wesleyan Student Assembly, the post office, the box office, and retail space. Fayerweather provides common areas for lectures, recitals, performances, and other events; it contains a large space on the second floor, Baldwin Hall, named for Edgar Baldwin, who was dean of the college from 1973–1990. In winter 2012, the historic squash court building (4 Wyllys Avenue) on College Row was renovated; now renamed Roger Hall, it is the site of the art house for the Gordon Center, the Paletti Art History Wing, and the College of Letters.

Michael S. Roth ’78 became Wesleyan’s 15th president at the beginning of the 2007–08 academic year. He has undertaken a number of initiatives that have energized the curriculum and helped to make a Wesleyan education more affordable for many. He has emphasized a three-year degree program that can save families as much as $50,000; eliminated loans for most students with a family income below $60,000; offered grants; and ensured that other students receiving financial aid are able to graduate without a heavy burden of debt. The Allstonian Center, opened in 2012, has become a hub of civic engagement—encamp- ing the Farnsfield Center for Social Entrepreneurship, the Allstonian Center for the Study of Public Life, and the Inwest Center for Community Partnerships. Four new interdisciplinary colleges also have been launched: the College of the Environment, the College of Film and the Moving Image, the College of East Asian Studies, and the College of Integrative Sciences. Another new initiative, the Shapiro Creative Writing Center, brings together students, faculty, and visit- ing writers seriously engaged in writing. Over the past six years applications for admission have increased substantially to record levels. During this time, Roth has overseen the most successful fundraising campaign in Wesleyan’s history and brought it over its $400 million goal a year ahead of schedule. Rising endow- ment for financial aid is one of Wesleyan’s highest priorities.
Open Curriculum

When students direct their own education, in consultation with intensively engaged faculty advisors, they learn to think independently, explore questions from multiple points of view, and develop habits of critical thinking that are hallmarks of a liberal education. Wesleyan upholds the principle that student choice fosters the drive to explore freely and seek connections across courses, generating the intellectual excitement that can fuel liberal education as a lifelong pursuit. With the freedom to sample liberally from across the curriculum, students are able to experience the surprise of unexpected ability in fields new to them and to make fruitful connections across subject areas that do not traditionally intersect. This can generate innovative depth of study and new ways of seeing—with students posing questions from one discipline to the assumptions of another.

General Education Expectations

Wesleyan’s open curriculum challenges students to create their own plan for general education. Academic coherence here does not rely on a core curriculum or a set of required courses; instead, students propose their academic plan to their faculty advisor and recalibrate it with their advisor each semester as their discoveries lead them to pursue new areas or deepen existing interests. By the end of their first two years students are expected to have earned at least two course credits in each of the three areas. All from different departments or programs. In the last two years students are expected to take one additional course credit in each of the three areas. A student who does not meet the expectation of a total of nine general education course credits by the time of graduation will not be eligible for University honors, Phi Beta Kappa, honors in general and for honors in certain departments and may not declare more than a combined total of two majors, certificates, and minors.

Major Concentrations

A degree of disciplined mastery in a major field of learning is an important dimension of a liberal education. The major may help a student prepare for a specific profession or may be necessary for a more specialized education in graduate schools or other post-baccalaureate educational institutions. Majors can take several forms—a departmental or interdepartmental major or a college program (College of Letters or College of Social Studies, for example). Generally, students declare a major in the second semester of their sophomore year—when they have sampled widely from different areas of the curriculum, have completed the first stage of their general education expectations, and are ready to develop deeper knowledge in a particular area of study.

Linked Majors, Minors, and Certificates

A major in the College of Integrative Sciences or Environmental Studies may only be declared as a linked major in conjunction with another major. In addition to major fields of study, Wesleyan also offers optional minor fields of study and certificates (similar to interdisciplinary minors). Students may not declare more than a combined total of three majors, certificates, and minors.

The Honor System

Communities exist by virtue of some consensus on values, even though that consensus may be imprecise and unspoken. In a university, it is essential that there be universal acceptance of certain enduring and specific standards of academic conduct. These standards of academic conduct constitute the Honor Code and are enforced by students through the Honor Board. Wesleyan’s Honor System dates to 1893, when students were granted the right to oversee the academic integrity of their education. Members of the community are bound by the Honor Code. All new students are required to read the Honor Code and sign a pledge to abide by it. Acts that constitute violations of the Honor Code include: (1) The attempt to obtain or obtain assistance in a formal academic exercise without due acknowledgement. This includes, but is not limited to: cheating during an exam, helping another student to cheat or to plagiarize, completing a project for someone, and/or asking someone else to complete a project for the student; (2) Plagiarism—the presentation of another person’s words, ideas, images, data or research as one’s own. Plagiarism is more than lifting a text word-for-word, even from sources in the public domain. Paraphrasing or using any content or terms coined by others without proper acknowledgement also constitutes plagiarism. (3) The submission of the same work for academic credit more than once without permission. (4) Willful falsification of data, information, or citations in any formal exercise. (5) Deception concerning adherence to the conditions set by the instructor for a formal academic exercise. Reports of possible Honor Code violations are referred to the Honor Board. The Honor Board consists of four students—two juniors and two seniors, who serve as co-chairs; the dean for academic advancement serves as an ex officio member of the Board. The Board exists to provide fair process for students alleged to have violated the Honor Code, to ensure that sanctions are commensurate with violations, and to promote uniformity in the handling of cases. Sanctions for violation are determined by the Board and are implemented by the dean of academic advancement.

POLICY ON REPORTING GRADES

In accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, the “Buckley Amendment,” Wesleyan does not release students’ grades or other educational records to parents or guardians without students’ written permission.

Wesleyan’s curriculum provides students with the opportunity to select from a wide array of courses. Because of enrollment limits on many courses, students will not always get into the courses they want on the first attempt. Some background on the principles according to which the University allocates its teaching resources may be helpful.

Wesleyan has a larger faculty than many schools of its size. One benefit has been that we can offer an unusual number and variety of courses with small enrollments, in which students participate actively and regularly in discussion and do individual research and writing under careful faculty supervision. Such courses are valued by both students and faculty because they are an important part of the intense intellectual engagement between student and faculty for which Wesleyan is known. In most cases, these courses do not lend themselves to extra sections taught by other faculty members, specialized disciplinary competence is usually required.

Wesleyan offers many large courses, with enrollment limits dictated by classroom capacity. The number of large lecture halls is limited. The argument against duplicate sections in the event of unusually high student demand in a particular semester is the same as for small courses. Most courses, both large and small, are repeated within any four-year period, so that students usually have other chances to enroll.

Enrollment limits permit Wesleyan both to respect the variety of students’ interests and to provide close attention to students’ work. In allocating its teaching resources, Wesleyan also honors what it regards as an obligation to transcend the continual shifts in intellectual fashion. While Wesleyan tries to meet many current student demands, it also tries to avoid imbalances in curricular offerings.

The Course Selection System

Wesleyan students have two opportunities to register for courses in any given semester. Both registration processes are done electronically through the students’ portfolios. During the academic year, pre-registration occurs in November for the spring semester and in February for the fall semester. At the end of the first ten class days of each semester, students may make final adjustments to their course schedules through an electronic drop/add system.

With so many opportunities to explore the curriculum, meeting with faculty advisors, pre-registering, and dropping and adding courses, building a course schedule is a continual process of refining choices. Students are encouraged to take full advantage of Wesleyan’s course-selection systems, which are designed to ensure that all students have ample opportunities to elect a challenging and coherent set of courses.

Educational Opportunities

Students are encouraged to explore their educational options in a variety of workshops, forums, and individual meetings offered throughout the year on such topics as study skills and time management, study abroad, leaving-taking opportunities, Twelve-College Exchange, choosing a major, graduate school, and career planning.

At Wesleyan, we believe that a global perspective is an essential part of a liberal arts education. In addition to language instruction on campus, Wesleyan offers opportunities for study abroad not only in the countries whose languages we teach, but also throughout the world, for students in all majors. Wesleyan both sponsors its own programs and approves programs run by other institutions. Before they graduate, approximately half of Wesleyan students study abroad for a semester or a year. Students considering this option must work through the Office of International Studies, where guidance is given concerning all aspects of study abroad.
HONORS

The University Catalog

A degree with honors can be earned two ways: (1) Departmental honors will be awarded to the student who has done outstanding work in the major field of study and met the standards for honors or high honors set by the respective department or program; (2) Honors in general scholarship will be awarded to the student who is a university major or whose thesis topic or methodology is outside of the domain appropriate for the award of honors in the student's major department(s) or program(s). The candidate for honors in general scholarship must have a minimum grade point average of 90.00, fulfill general education expectations, and submit a senior thesis that meets the standards for honors or high honors set by the Committee on Honors. Honors recognize a BA attained with distinction, either in the major or in General Scholarship. Honors recognizes the successful completion of a mentored, independent, honors capstone project that has been evaluated by qualified examiners and that meets the standards for honors set by the Committee on Honors when completed in General Scholarship. A student may receive no more than 2.0 credits for any one thesis.

In the full semester of the senior year, all candidates for departmental honors must enroll in a senior thesis tutorial or ask that their department forward their names to the honors committee as candidates for honors in general scholarship, each candidate must submit (1) a brief proposal describing the honors work; (2) a short statement telling how general education expectations have been or will be fulfilled; and (3) letters of support from the thesis tutor and the department chair of the student's major (or, in the case of the student's major, from the Committee on University Majors). The completed thesis is due in mid-April. More detailed information is available from the Office of the Registrar.

University honors are the highest award Wesleyan honors. To be eligible, a student must fulfill general education expectations, earn high honors (either departmental or in general scholarship), be recommended for university honors, and qualify in an oral examination administered by the Committee on Honors.

Academic Advising and Satisfactory Progress Toward the Degree

Academic Progress

Students entering in their first year have eight semesters at Wesleyan to complete all degree requirements. Intervention will occur only if it appears that the student's academic performance is falling below the standards of satisfactory progress. The class deans review the academic progress of all students at the end of each semester to determine whether students are making satisfactory progress toward the degree or have met guidelines for academic discipline. The academic review process involves a thorough discussion of each student's specific academic difficulties and available options. The class deans determine academic disciplinary actions consistent with the university academic regulations, which are designed to protect the student's ability to graduate in eight semesters. Disciplinary action is preventive, not punitive. Experience has shown that students who are given an opportunity to reassess their academic commitment and performance during time away from Wesleyan are much more likely to complete their academic work successfully when they return.

Students placed on academic discipline in any of the categories described below will receive a letter from their class dean explaining the status and its permanent conditions. Because of federal regulations about the information that the University can share without a student's permission, parents should speak directly to their student about his or her academic progress and grades. In order to discuss a student's academic standing with a parent or guardian, the class dean must receive written permission from the student. The form is available at wesleyan.edu/studentaffairs/pdfs/FERPAConsentWesleyanUniversity.pdf.

Academic Review Guidelines

The faculty has established general guidelines for the academic review process that provide for a series of increasingly serious warnings when a student fails to meet the University's expectations for academic performance. The primary criteria is that each student meet the requirements for the B.A. by the scheduled time of graduation, i.e., within eight semesters (not including leaves of absence) for students who enter the institution without prior undergraduate work. The following types of action are taken when a student's performance falls below the expectations. For more information, see Academic Regulations at wesleyan.edu/registrar/academic_regulations/academic_review_and_promotion.html.

A. WARNING—This mild form of discipline alerts students to a potential problem, such as when a student's academic work in a course is passing but unsatisfactory (below C-) or when a student earns fewer than 3.00 but more than 2.00 credits.

B. PROBATION—This sterner category of discipline warns of difficulties serious enough to prevent graduation if not corrected, such as failure to achieve the requisite cumulative grade point average of 70.00, failure in one course, or passing but unsatisfactory work in two courses. A student who receives more than two incomplete grades without the dean's permission may also be placed on Probation. One passing but unsatisfactory grade continues a student on Probation. A student on Probation must regularly with his or her class dean.

C. STRICT PROBATION—This level of discipline is used in serious cases of academic difficulty, usually indicated by at least one of the following conditions:

1. failure in one course and passing but unsatisfactory work in another;

2. passing but unsatisfactory work in three or four courses;

3. one failing grade or unsatisfactory work in two courses while on Probation;

4. credit deficiency for promotion;

5. earning two or fewer credits in a single semester.

Students on Strict Probation must attend all classes, hand in all work on time, receive no incomplete grades without the permission of their class dean, and must regularly with the class dean. One passing but unsatisfactory grade on Strict Probation continues a student on Strict Probation.

D. REQUIRED RESIGNATION—This category of discipline is used when a student's academic performance is so deficient as to warrant the student's departure from the University for the purpose of addressing the difficulties that prevented him or her from meeting the standards of academic progress. The notation "resigned" will be entered on the student's official transcript. The performance of students who are required to resign will usually involve at least one of the following:

1. For All Students:

a. failure to earn the required number of credits for promotion.

b. failure in two or more courses, or

c. failure in one course and passing but unsatisfactory work in two other courses.

2. Students on Probation:

a. failure in one course and passing but unsatisfactory work in one other, or

b. unsatisfactory work in three or more courses.

3. Students on Strict Probation:

a. failure in one course and passing but unsatisfactory work in one other, or

b. unsatisfactory work in three or more courses.

Students who are required to resign may not be on campus or in University housing, nor may they participate in student activities or the life of the college while on this status. The University through the class dean may suspend students who are required to resign after an absence of at least two semesters. The process of application for readmission requires a demonstration of academic preparation and fulfillment of all the specified requirements for return. Students readmitted after being required to resign will be placed on Strict Probation.

E. SEPARATION—The category of academic discipline imposed when academic performance is so poor that the student is removed from the University and is not eligible for readmission. Separation is imposed if a student's academic performance warrants Required Resignation for a second time.

Credit Standing

Since recurrent credit deficiencies may prevent a student from graduating within eight semesters, credit standing is reviewed at the end of each semester. Therefore, students are expected to make progress toward fulfilling the graduation requirements at a specified pace. Students are expected to progress at the following pace in order to complete a minimum of 32.00 credits by the end of their eighth semester. The chart below shows both the credits expected each semester and the minimum credits required for promotion:

Acceleration of Academic Program and Three-Year Option

A student can graduate in fewer than eight semesters, but in no less than the required semester in residence. This may be accomplished by using Advanced Placement or transfer credit or by completing course work or independent study projects during the summer or winter sessions, or while on leave. Students may also accelerate by taking additional courses during the academic year at Wesleyan. Those considering this option should see Graduation Requirements (wesleyan.edu/registrar/academic_regulations/degree_requirements.html) and should consult with their class dean to review policies.
CODE OF CONDUCT AND THE JUDICIAL PROCESS

Students have a good deal of freedom at Wesleyan University. With this freedom comes significant responsibility. While there are a number of policies and regulations that facilitate our educational mission and community life, these expectations represent reasonable regulation of campus conduct. Although the Code of Non-Academic Conduct is comprised of 15 “common sense” regulations (see: wesleyan.edu/studentaffairs/studenthandbook), all members of the Wesleyan community should remember that a reasonable, considerate, and courteous attitude toward all others in the community is the primary goal and the best guideline.

While the legal drinking age in Connecticut is 21, some underage students get access to alcohol at Wesleyan, just as students do at other colleges and universities. First year students are particularly vulnerable to incidents of high-risk drinking. Research shows that by having frank, face-to-face conversations with your student, you can have a positive effect on your child’s approach to alcohol. We encourage you to discuss the negative impacts of drinking with your student. The National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism offers this advice for parents: collegedrinkingprevention.gov/NIAAACollegeMaterials/collegeFactSheetForParents.aspx.

Consistent with Wesleyan’s commitment to student governance, the University utilizes a peer-based judicial system to address alleged violations of the Code of Non-Academic Conduct. The Student Judicial Board (SJB) is responsible for primary adjudication of all alleged violations of the Code of Non-Academic Conduct except those cases that may arise when the SJB cannot convene (summer, recess periods, etc.). The dean of students’ office oversees and advises the SJB.

When a student or a group is believed to have violated the code, a complaint is brought to the Student Judicial Board, a body consisting of students from the junior and senior classes. A complaint may be lodged by a member of the administration, faculty, or staff, or by a student. The SJB has an administrative advisor and faculty advisor present at all hearings. The SJB is not, and does not attempt to be, a court. It functions as a fact-finding panel, using a standard of fair process in conducting its business. Decisions are based on the preponderance of evidence. The sanctions for violations of the code range from a disciplinary warning or disciplinary probation to suspension or dismissal from the University. The SJB makes a recommendation to the dean of students, who affords to other students such as the ability to study abroad or hold certain campus jobs. Students may appeal in writing to the vice president for student affairs who will chair a committee to review the petition.

The proceedings of the Student Judicial Board are kept confidential. The file that contains the written complaint, any recorded evidence offered by the complainant and the accused, and the testimony of persons appearing before the SJB are subject to discovery by subpoena, deposition, or otherwise in criminal or civil litigation related to the alleged offense or the circumstances under which it arose. A student against whom a complaint has been lodged with the Student Judicial Board may, therefore, wish to seek the advice of legal counsel before submitting statements or evidence to the board. The dean of students can suspend a student whose continued presence on the campus may pose a threat to the community. Wesleyan believes it is proper for students to be answerable to their peers under the Code of Non-Academic Conduct.

Parents do not receive notice from the University when charges have been brought against their students, just as students do at other colleges and universities. A full description of Wesleyan’s judicial procedures is available at wesleyan.edu/studentaffairs/studenthandbook.

RESIDENTIAL LIFE

Wesleyan University believes that residential life is a crucial component of the overall college experience. Therefore, the University has a four-year residential requirement for all undergraduate students. Wesleyan provides university housing sufficient to accommodate all unmarried undergraduate students, and all housing is furnished. Students who need a specific housing accommodation due to a disability or medical issue must register with Disability Resources. Students seeking an accommodation for the fall can register by contacting Dean Laura Patey at lpatey@wesleyan.edu.

Office of Residential Life | reslife@wesleyan.edu | wesleyan.edu/reslife

Student and professional staff members are trained to provide a positive living/learning experience for students and to manage the residential areas. Students also are supported by a 24-hour on-call network of administrators and staff that includes Public Safety, Residential Life, Counseling and Psychological Services, Health Services, and Student Affairs.

The best method to receive timely, helpful responses to all of your inquiries is by e-mail. In addition, the Residential Life website provides substantial information pertaining to living options and amenities, staffing, and policies and procedures, or you can call the office at 860-685-3550.

RESIDENTIAL LIFE STAFF

Resident Advisors (RAs) Residential advisors are students chosen for their leadership and interpersonal skills. Living in residential areas with residents, RAs assist with administrative duties and serve as resource persons, providing residents with referrals regarding personal and academic issues and assisting with conflict mediation, program implementation, and policy enforcement. Questions or concerns from students should be addressed initially to the RA.

House Managers (HMs) A student house manager is present in each of the program houses and plays a similar role to that of the RA. HMs assist with administrative duties and are trained to serve as resource and referral persons, help mediate conflicts between house members, and ensure that the members of the house work collaboratively on programming related to the house mission.

Community Advisors (CAs) Community advisors are members of the junior or senior class who are responsible for meeting the needs of the students who live in the wood-frame houses and apartments. CAs play an important role in establishing a community environment that is conducive to maximum academic, personal, and social development of their residents.

Head Residents (HRs) Head residents are experienced student residential staff members who are specifically trained to deal effectively with issues of student life and residential living. Each HR works closely with an area coordinator to assist in the management of an assigned residential area.

Area Coordinators | These professional staff members have responsibility for supervision of the entire residential student staff and for specific areas such as development of staff selection and training programs, leadership development initiatives, and program housing. Students who have issues that are not resolved after seeking assistance from the resident staff should contact these professional staff members. There are five area coordinators, all of whom can be reached at 860-685-3550.

Assistant Director | The assistant director is responsible for managing the room selection and assignments process, as well as overseeing all technological initiatives. The assistant director is also responsible for graduate student housing.

Associate Director | The associate director of residential life is responsible for ensuring that all students residing in university housing benefit from the programs and services offered by the residential life program. The associate director supervises the area coordinators and collaborates with other staff members to develop services for residents.

Director | The director of residential life is responsible for supervising and coordinating all aspects of the residential life program to ensure an appropriate residential experience that is consistent with the university mission and goals. The director works with personnel from other university offices to respond efficiently to the needs of the residence population.
Housing Options

The Wesleyan residential experience is typically a progression from residence hall living in a student's first year toward increasingly more independent living options. Wesleyan offers a variety of housing options to undergraduates through their four years in residence. All first-year students live in residences close to the center of campus; these include 200 Church Street, the Butterfields, Clark Hall, Bennett Hall, 156 High, and Fox Hill (West College and Nicolson). Most first-year students will share a room with one other student. Some will live in triples or single occupancy rooms. Non-first-year students can choose from a wide array of housing options including program houses, apartments, and wood-frame houses, depending on their class year standing.

Housing options include the following residential units (pictures and more details are available at wesleyan.edu/reslife):

- Wood-Frame Houses: Located within the residential neighborhood surrounding the campus, these houses accommodate two to six students. Houses typically fill during senior housing selection. Students are responsible for their own housekeeping.

- Apartments: Apartments include 1 Vine Street, 65 Pearl Street, 240 Court Street, Farress Apartments, and High Rise and Low Rise. Apartments range in size from one-person to five-person units. Each apartment has a bathroom, a kitchen, and a living room. Students are responsible for their own housekeeping.

- Queen Floor in the Flex (Wood-Frame Houses): Located within the residential neighborhood surrounding the campus, the Queen Floor consists of four apartments, each comprised of four units.

- Lifestyle and Theme Options: Lifestyle options include the Quiet Floor (in West College and Nicolson), the College Living (in Clark and Bennett Halls), and the Writer’s Block (in 156 High). Each house has its own mission that the residents work to support. Program houses are available to upperclass students through the room selection process.

- Program Houses: These houses consist of brick and frame structures with shared kitchens, lounges and bathrooms, and single and double occupancy rooms. The programs range in size from seven to 28 students. Each house has its own mission that the residents work to support. Program houses are available to upperclass students through the room selection process.

- Residence Halls: Traditional corridor-style residence halls have single and double occupancy rooms, shared bathrooms, and lounges, including the Butterfields, Clark Hall, Bennett Hall, and Fox Hill. Smaller residential units include 156 High and 200 Church Street. Within the residence halls, students have several lifestyle and theme options. Lifestyle options include the Quiet Floor and the Subtext Free Floors in the Butterfields and the Single Sex Floor in Nicolson. Theme floor options for first-year students include the Green Hall and the Butterfields, the Writer’s Block in 156 High, and the Living and Learning seminars option. Students living in one of these seminars will be housed in the same building as their classmates, which facilitates group assignments and promotes discussions outside the classroom.

- Room Changes: Students may request room changes during specific times of the academic year. There is a two-week freeze on room changes at the beginning of each semester to allow time to verify occupancy. Unauthorized room changes will result in an administrative charge and/or judicial referral for each person involved. If the move is unauthorized, the Office of Residential Life may require students to return to their original assignments.

General Information

The University assigns rooms to all new students. Continuing and returning students participate in Housing Selection, which consists of several components: community-based living, program housing, and room selection. Students may enter the room selection process as groups or individuals. Within their class year, students receive a random ranking that determines the order in which they select their housing. Each spring, the Office of Residential Life updates the room selection information, which can be found at wesleyan.edu/reslife.

Room Assignments/Vacancies: In the case of vacancies, the University reserves the right to assign roommates, consolidate vacancies within the same unit, and make assignments to fill vacancies. Students may request a new roommate if they make such a request in advance of an anticipated vacancy or before the Office of Residential Life confirms a different assignment.

Room Changes: Students may request room changes during specific times of the academic year. There is a two-week freeze on room changes at the beginning of each semester to allow time to verify occupancy. Unauthorized room changes will result in an administrative charge and/or judicial referral for each person involved. If the move is unauthorized, the Office of Residential Life may require students to return to their original assignments.

Furnishings: The University provides each room with a bed, mattress (extra-long twin in residence halls and program houses—check the website regarding other locations), dresser, closet, desk, chair, and bookshelf, as well as shades or blinds. Trash receptacles are not provided in student rooms. All university furniture must remain in the room throughout the year. Students may bring additional personal furnishings, provided they conform to fire codes and that they take all personal items with them at the end of the year. For more information, see wesleyan.edu/reslife.

Cooking Facilities: All residence halls have cooking facilities. Kitchen appliances are not permitted in student rooms with the exception of a microwave and coffee pot with an automatic shut-off.

Student Damage: Students are responsible for university property in their rooms. The University will make a reasonable effort to determine individual responsibility for damage to common areas; failing that, it will charge all residents in the affected unit for repairs or replacement.

Insurance: Since Wesleyan cannot assume responsibility for loss or damage of residents’ personal property caused by mechanical mishaps, theft, fire, wind, flood, or other cataclysms, the University advises students to maintain their own insurance for personal possessions. Parents should check the terms and conditions of their homeowners’ policies to determine if losses of family members’ possessions at school are covered. If not, there are several insurance companies that offer inexpensive policies that cover student belongings, such as National Student Services Inc. (nssi.com)

Charges: The residential comprehensive fee, which includes room and board, is based on student class year standing.

DINING SERVICES

Wesleyan Dining by Bon Appétit | wesleyan.edu/dining | dining@wesleyan.edu

The following is a brief summary of the dining venues and the meal plans available for 2016-2017. Meal plan costs are billed to student accounts. If you have any questions about Wesleyan dining, please visit wesleyan.edu/dining or send an e-mail to dining@wesleyan.edu.

A PARTNERSHIP FOR CAMPUS DINING SERVICE

Wesleyan University Dining Services is managed by Bon Appétit, an onsite custom restaurant company that provides café and catering services to corporations, colleges and universities, and specialty venues. Bon Appétit is known for its culinary expertise, commitment to socially responsible food sourcing and business practices, and strong partnerships with respected conservation organizations. The campus community is proud to partner with a company that shares its values and is equally proud of the level of culinary expertise and commitment to social responsibility it brings to the campus dining program. Bon Appétit at Wesleyan has been selected as one of 12 school dining programs nationwide that will be participating in the FARE pilot program, a program focused on providing students with food allergies a safe college dining experience.

Dining Venues

The Usdan Marketplace: This dining facility offers an innovative approach to menu selection and food presentation. A few of the culinary platforms that define this venue are the vegan/vegetarian station, kosher, classic comfort foods, artisan pizza and pasta, Halal proteins, and traditional favorites such as the deli, the grill, and more.

The Usdan Café: This à la carte café features a variety of freshly brewed coffee and espresso drinks, sushi, a large array of freshly prepared, pre-packaged sandwiches and salads, and more.

Summerfields: The intimate dining space in the Butterfields residence offers lunch and dinner with a variety of grilled sandwiches, wraps, burgers, and daily specials, as well as several salads and desserts.

Pi Café: Located in the Exley Science Center, Pi Café features fresh-brewed coffee and espresso drinks, a large array of freshly prepared, pre-packaged sandwiches, salads, and snacks, and an enticing bakery selection.

Weshop Essentials: This mini-market adjacent to West College provides a large inventory of premium national, regional, and local brands; ready-to-eat and ready-to-heat organic and kosher selections; and bulk food items such as nuts, grains, legumes, coffees, rice, flour, and more.

Additional Options: Students also have the option to use their meal plan points at the Red and Black Café located at Broad Street Books (the campus bookstore), WoWings, as well as the campus eating club, The Star and Crescent.
2016–2017 Meal Plans

First-year students are required to choose from one of four plans (the 135, 165, 210, and 285). The cost of the base meal plans is included in the Residential Comprehensive Fee. Students who opt up to the Block 285 plan or who add points to their plans will have these additional charges billed to their student accounts. Sophomores have an additional block available to them (105). Juniors and seniors may select a 50 block plan exclusively geared toward them, any of the presented plans, or the all declining balance points plan. Within each block plan, students have the option to use up to seven meals as guest meals. Guest meals may be used for the student or for a guest at any point in the semester. All Block meal plans also include some points. Point values are currently being recalculated. Full description of all meal plans will be available at wesleyan.edu/usdan/mealplan beginning July 1.

Parents trying to help their student pick the best plan should recognize that students rarely eat three meals a day. The vast majority average two meals a day with snack size meals in between. Students do have a meal plan change period that corresponds with the Drop/Add Period for classes within the first two weeks of each semester to make changes to the plans they selected in case they realize what they chose is not working out. Your students should watch for all deadlines on their portfolio page. In addition, whatever plan they select for fall semester will automatically be the same plan for spring semester unless they go into their portfolio and select a different plan. Waivers and deadline extensions will not be granted in cases of missed deadlines.

Important 2016–2017 Meal Plan Information

Students must present their Wesleyan ID at each meal. Meal plans and point plans are for the sole use of the purchaser and are not transferable. Meals not used during the fall semester do not transfer to the spring semester—please encourage your student to use meals before points so that they take full advantage of their selected program. Points on all plans are transferable from fall to spring semester; points remaining at the end of the spring semester are not refundable. Both the Usdan Marketplace and Summerfield participate in the “eco-to-go” program for some meals. During Thanksgiving recess, semester intermission, and March break, dining locations are closed.

Meal Plan Exemptions

In order to maintain the scope of the current dining program, all undergraduate students are required to participate in the dining program. In rare circumstances, exemptions from mandatory participation or modification of plan requirements are appropriate. Petitions must be made to the director of the Usdan Center. The following guidelines have been developed in order to respond to requests for exemptions and/or changes:

• The student is a nontraditional undergraduate. Specifically, the student is 25 years of age or older and resides with his/her family (spouse/partner and dependent children, if any).

• The student has a medical condition that requires dietary restrictions that cannot be accommodated by the dining program. Students requesting exemptions or changes to the meal plan for medical reasons must meet with a physician at University Health Services to review their medical condition. The medical director will consult with the student’s personal physicians and Wesleyan’s nutritionist (if appropriate) and then forward a recommendation to the director of the Usdan Center.

• The student has obtained “off campus” status (exemption from the residency requirement) and commutes to the University from the residence of a parent/guardian. The student has special nonmedical dietary needs that cannot be accommodated within the context of the dining program. Students requesting exemptions or changes to the meal plan for dietary reasons must meet with the Dining Services director or designee to review their dietary needs. The director will forward a recommendation to the director of the Usdan Center.

Student Academic Resources*

Student Academic Resources (SAR) coordinates programs for intellectual enrichment and academic support. The goals are to foster a community culture that recognizes the relationship between intellectual growth and personal development, to ensure that students know about and are encouraged to seek out appropriate services, and to share information among programs and constituents to ensure the provision of high-quality and accessible services that facilitate academic achievement for all students.

Academic Peer Advisors*

The Academic Peer Advising Program provides students with a well-informed resource about the curriculum and course registration, as well as academic resource referrals, beginning with New Student Orientation and continuing throughout the year. Academic peer advisors play a key supportive role and with other important advising resources (e.g., registration materials sent in the summer, the online advisor guidelines, residence hall meetings, etc.), assist new students in preparing for their individual meetings with their advisors. Beyond New Student Orientation, academic peer advisors maintain a regular presence in the residence halls and online throughout the academic year. They provide individual peer advice and meet 1:1 with students to assist in the development of metacognitive learning strategies related to time management, study skills, and exam preparation. They are on hand to assist students with major declaration questions and registration questions in November and April, and are available to answer specific student needs and provide referrals related to academic support services.

Office of Study Abroad

Wesleyan considers study abroad an essential part of the liberal arts education for students majoring in any subject. The Office of Study Abroad oversees all aspects of study abroad (and study at a handful of domestic programs), including advising, program selection, application, financial aid and payment procedures, credit transfer, pre-departure orientation, and re-entry. During the office's daily drop-in hours (Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 10 a.m.–noon; Tuesday–Thursday, 2–4 p.m.) by appointment, students can review program brochures, real program evaluations by returned participants, ask questions, and pick up application materials. The office website provides a host of information about programs, deadlines, safety, and resources on preparation for study abroad, as well as a parent's guide.

Wesleyan University Library

Wesleyan University Library is one of the finest small academic libraries in the United States with approximately 1.9 million print and electronic resources, including books, journals, images, statistical data, video and sound recordings, and government documents. The extensive and varied collection of library holdings provide strong support for the educational mission of the University. The Library consists of Olin Memorial Library and the Science Library: Olin Library is the main campus library and also houses specialized collections in Sciences and Recording, the Music Library, Archives, and Special Collections & Archives (used extensively by students). Most collections in Olin and the Science Library are in open stacks, providing students with unmediated access to the books and journals they need. Extensive collections of electronic resources are available to students whether they are on- or off-campus.

There are a variety of group and individual study spaces in the library with wireless access including newly renovated spaces on the second floor of Olin. The Campbell Reference Center also offers students collaborative and single study spaces, with nearby research and technology assistance.

Wesleyan University Library takes pride in the quality of the instructional and research support that it offers to all members of the Wesleyan community. We believe strongly that information literacy—the ability to navigate effectively in the ever-growing information universe—is a skill that will serve the student well for a lifetime. Research librarians assist all library users to locate materials for their research and assignments, whether not those materials are held at Wesleyan. Assistance is available in the library, online (e-mail, text, and chat), and by phone. Librarians conduct classes on how to find and use information, and meet with individual students for in-depth research assistance.

Wesleyan is a member of the CTW Consortium with Connecticut College and Trinity College. CTW shares library materials within the consortium via a daily delivery service and makes accessible a growing number of shared electronic resources. The library's interlibrary loan service provides materials not held at Wesleyan or within CTW. Additional information about library collections, hours, and services is available at the library website.

In the pursuit of excellence, the Athletic Department strives to be the most innovative and successful athletic program in the prestigious New England Small College Athletic Conference (NESCAC) and a leader at the national level. Wesleyan University pursues excellence in all of its programs and Athletics is an integral part of the overall educational process.

Wesleyan coaches share the same goal as the entire Wesleyan community: to transform the lives of our students. To achieve this goal, the University is committed to the support of highly trained and dedicated faculty coaches who practice their craft in state-of-the-art facilities. The Wesleyan Athletic Department supports a broad range of intercollegiate teams that encourage scholar-athletes to develop their skills and themselves to their full potential and to benefit from the lessons learned from perseverance, competition, sacrifice, and teamwork. The University believes that successful intercollegiate teams serve to build a sense of spirit and community on campus.

In addition, some students prefer to be involved in student organized club sports and/or enjoy the offerings included in the comprehensive intramural program. The Athletic Department also provides a wide array of health and wellness courses and lifetime skill activities that encourage students to develop the habit of leading healthy and balanced lives. Approximately 700 students participate in one of the 29 varsity sports each year. Wesleyan has been competing on the intercollegiate level for more than 140 years, dating back to the Aggies baseball team of the 1860s. Women began competing in varsity athletics in 1971. Wesleyan, a NCAA Division III college, is a charter member of NESCAC, established in 1971. Current members include Amherst, Bates, Bowdoin, Colby, Connecticut College, Hamilton, Middlebury, Trinity, Tufts, and Williams, along with Wesleyan. NESCAC is considered to be the most competitive NCAA Division III conference in the country. The NESCAC athletics mission includes an emphasis on the integration of athletics and academic programs.

Wesleyan sponsors a wide range of club sports with 17 teams registered through the Wesleyan Student Assembly (WSA), including badminton, basketball, boxing, cheerleading, climbing, equestrian, fencing, kendo, martial arts, soccer, squash, tennis, ultimate Frisbee, volleyball, and water polo. Nearly 1,000 individuals, including students, faculty, staff, and alumni, take advantage of intramurals. Team sports offered include basketball, broomball, dodgeball, indoor soccer, squash, soccer, squash, ultimate Frisbee, volleyball, and water polo. The offering of these activities and the addition of new activities are based on student interest each year.

ATHLETICS INJURY CARE

Wesleyan employs two sport medicine physicians, as well as four full-time and two part-time certified athletic trainers, to service the athletic community. Students injured in athletics receive care from on-campus physicians and athletic trainers and have timely access to specialists located in the Middletown community. Questions or comments regarding athletic injury insurance should be directed to Joe Fournier, director of athletic injury care, at 860-685-3528.

ATHLETICS FACILITIES

Wesleyan has 35 acres of practice and game fields including Cissn and Smith synthetic turf fields, the Freeman Athletic Center, the Maczynski Boathouse, 12 hard-surfaced tennis courts, a 400-meter outdoor track, the 1,200-seat Silloway Gymnasium, and Rosenbaum Squash Center with eight squash courts for use by the Wesleyan community. The Freeman Athletic Center also includes the Wesleyan Natatorium (30-meter by 25-yard pool), the Sparrow-Snyder Ice Rink, the Bacon Field House (200-meter track and multi-purpose interior for various sports, including indoor tennis), and the 7,500-square-foot Andersen Fitness Center, containing 30 state-of-the-art stations. Locker rooms, team rooms, an equipment room, an athletic injury care facility, and Athletic Department offices are also part of the athletics facilities complex.
The Chaplains from Wesleyan’s Office of Religious and Spiritual Life have been appointed by the University to ensure and promote the spiritual and religious well being of the campus community. We do this by providing leadership, counseling, and programming that promotes holistic student development and by nurturing many diverse and vibrant religious communities at Wesleyan.

We are here to help students:
• Grow in their own tradition as well as learn more about other religious paths and faiths
• Find a safe and confidential environment to discuss personal or existential issues or difficulties
• Plan life cycle celebrations or rituals

While each one of us participates in and leads worship and study in his/her own religious traditions on a weekly basis, the chaplains also work together to sponsor several educational, multi-faith, and social programs during the year, such as Soul Matters and our “What Matters to Me and Why” dinner and discussion series.

The chaplains are committed to welcoming students of all genders and sexual identities, of all religious and spiritual traditions, and from all cultural backgrounds. Please feel free to e-mail us to schedule a visit, or attend one of our programs.

The Office of Religious and Spiritual Life is located at 169 High Street. A lounge is available for group meetings and quiet study.

The Jewish Community at Wesleyan

The Jewish community at Wesleyan, like the Wesleyan community, is a diverse group of students from a wide variety of backgrounds. This diversity is reflected in the range of religious, cultural, political, and social activities offered by the various Jewish student organizations and by Rabbi David, the Jewish chaplain. Individuals choose to what extent and in what ways they will be involved in Jewish life and those who do participate are under no pressure to conform to any particular style of Jewish expression. The input and creativity of all members of the community are always welcomed by the various Jewish student organizations.

So if you are looking for a cozy community where new friendships can develop, or yummy home cooked food, or a venue to do social justice/Tikkun Olam, or just a place to sing and dance, please check out the Wesleyan Jewish community.
Student Activities and Leadership Development

A Wesleyan University education goes beyond the classroom experience. The education of the whole student is achieved through involvement in political, social, and cultural organizations that encourage individual creativity and develop skills that maximize the student's potential. The Office of Student Activities and Leadership Development (SALD) is committed to supporting students in their own development and to help them learn from the many experiences in which they'll be involved outside of classes. The SALD staff provides support and guidance in the following ways:

- Advise student organizations in the planning of social and educational events
- Promote events that recognize and celebrate the diverse identities present within the student body
- Encourage students to develop leadership skills that will aid in their success both during and beyond their time at Wesleyan

Wesleyan is a vibrant community. If your student is interested in getting involved, encourage them to stop by the SALD Office in the Usdan University Center. For a complete list of student organizations, visit the Wesleyan Student Assembly website at wsa.wesleyan.edu.

The Allbritton Center is the hub of civic engagement at Wesleyan University, a place to study public life, actively partner with the local and regional community, and gain practical skills for social impact.

ALLBRITTON CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF PUBLIC LIFE

The Allbritton Center for the Study of Public Life aspires to be the leading regional center for engaging academics, nonacademic practitioners, and the general public in mutual partnerships with the goal of supporting state-of-the-art scholarship, high-impact teaching practices, rigorous debate, and broad dissemination of works pertaining to public life. Through its Right Now! series of lectures and events, sponsorship of nonacademic experts as visiting professors, and support of activities concerned with public life, the Allbritton Center seeks to widen the scope of debate and engender greater collaboration between academics and the community at large.

SERVICE-LEARNING

Service-learning integrates experiences outside the classroom with an academic curriculum taught within the classroom. As one form of experiential education, it seeks to broaden students’ understanding of course content through activities that are of service to the community. The Allbritton Center offers grants and other resources to assist faculty in the development of service-learning courses.

PATRICELLI CENTER FOR SOCIAL ENTREPRENEURSHIP

The Patricelli Center for Social Entrepreneurship supports students and alumni interested in creating and sustaining programs, businesses, and organizations that advance the public good. Through workshops and trainings, specialized mentoring and networking services, grants, and incubator workspace on campus, the center seeks to cultivate and expand the Wesleyan traditions of social justice, activism, and entrepreneurship.

Student Health Insurance Requirements

The University requires that all students be covered by adequate health insurance while enrolled and provide proof of coverage by completing an online waiver form annually. If a student does not have other private insurance, he or she must enroll in the university-sponsored plan provided by Gallagher Student Health and Special Risk. More information will be sent to students in mid-June. Any students who fail to provide information about the insurance coverage by the August 15 deadline will be enrolled in the university-sponsored plan and the annual plan fees will be applied to their student account in late September. Wesleyan University will offer low-cost student loans to most students who need assistance covering the cost of the health insurance policy. Grant aid assistance will be limited. Please review your financial aid award letter for your specific eligibility.

Waiver and enrollment forms must be completed online at gallagherstudent.com/wesleyan.

The limits of each portion of the insurance plan are described in the brochure, available online at gallagherstudent.com/wesleyan. Gallagher’s phone number is 800-499-5062. Insurance for student spouses and children is also available. If the insured student ceases to be an enrolled student at Wesleyan, insurance coverage will remain in force until the end of the term for which the premium has been paid; notification should be sent to the address noted in the box at left.

The Davison Health Center bills private insurance companies for visits and services provided at the Health Center. This alleviates the need for students to charge most fees to their student account or pay out of pocket and not get reimbursed. Please note some fees cannot be billed to insurance; i.e., over-the-counter medications. Students can charge these fees directly to their student account. For more information on Wesleyan’s Health Services and insurance information, go to wesleyan.edu/healthservices.

Sexual Violence Prevention and Response at Wesleyan University

Wesleyan University is committed to building a community of empowered bystanders, providing multifaceted and ongoing prevention education as well as support to students who have experienced sexual violence, including sexual assault, stalking, and relationship violence.

WE SPEAK, WE STAND

*WE Speak. WE Stand.—Wesleyan’s bystander intervention campaign—aims to create a campus that is actively engaged in the prevention of sexual violence and advocates for the responsible use of alcohol. The goal of the program is to empower bystanders to intervene in high-risk situations involving sex assault, sexual assault, and relationship violence. Empowered bystanders create a safe community by standing up and speaking out when they witness situations that could potentially harm the health and safety of others.

In addition to a bystander program, workshops related to consent, sexual violence prevention, supporting survivors, and healthy relationships are offered throughout the academic year. Wesleyan also provides resources to students who have been impacted by sexual violence.

SEXUAL ASSAULT RESPONSE TEAM (SART)

SART is composed of Wesleyan faculty and staff who are trained to provide support and assistance to any student who is a survivor of a sexual assault or other form of sexual violence. SART members strive to ensure that survivors have the resources they need, while ensuring their privacy. The supportive function of a SART member includes helping survivors by explaining options for medical care, mental health care, housing, academic concerns, and how to file a report with the University.

OFFICE OF RELIGIOUS AND SPIRITUAL LIFE

Chaplains are considered confidential reporters and often refer students to Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS), see below or other services. Two of the four chaplains are members of the Sexual Assault Response Team. Some students may be more comfortable talking to a chaplain initially. Some students find that their relationship with their spiritual leader is impacted after an assault, and the chaplains can help them explore their concerns.

COUNSELING AND PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES (CAPS)

CAPS provides free individual and group counseling for survivors of sexual violence. Counseling services are also available to respondents in sexual misconduct cases (see page 21).

WOMEN AND FAMILIES CENTER

Women and Families Center is a local community agency that provides counseling for survivors of sexual assault.

STUDENT ACCOUNTS

860-685-2800  wesleyan.edu/studentaccounts

ACCOUNT BILLING

When a student registers for courses at Wesleyan, an open-ended account is established through which Wesleyan will process financial transactions. The student promises to pay the total amount of all charges within 30 days of each billing statement as indicated in Wesleyan’s Undergraduate Agreement and Disclosure Statement available on the Student Account website. The University permits the electronic statements throughout the year showing the current balance; the electronic billing statements (E-Bill) is sent to the student and to any Authorized Participant set up by the student. Students should designate Authorized Participant status to anyone who should receive the E-Bill from the Student Accounts Office; directions for doing so can be found on the student account website. If no Authorized Participant is established, only the student will receive the E-Bills.

METHODS OF PAYMENT

Payment is due within 30 days from the billing due date on each of the billing statements. The first bill of the academic year is prepared in July. The University will not allow a student to enroll until the outstanding balance for the semester has been paid or an approved alternative payment plan has been instituted.

Wesleyan expects payment for charges itemized on the student account within 30 days. Any student account balance outstanding after 30 days on each bill is subject to a $200 late payment penalty. Payment may be made by check through the e-billing system, wire transfer, or wire check mailed to Student Accounts, 237 High Street, Middletown, CT 06459. International payments can conventionally be made through Flywire, which allows payment security from any country and any bank, generally in your home currency. If a payment made with Flywire, you can track your payments, secure on bank fees and exchange rates in more than 48 currencies and contact their multilingual customer support team with any questions.

To make payments, simply go to wesleyan.flywire.com. The University does not accept debit or credit card payments for undergraduate student accounts. Alternative payment options are as follows:

MONTHLY PAYMENT PLAN (MPP)

Many families choose to spread their payments out over the course of the year, and the Wesleyan MPP provides that opportunity. This is an interest-free five-month payment plan each semester, administered by Tuition Management Systems (TMS). The plan begins August 1 for fall semester and January 1 for spring semester with payment due the first of every month through May. There is a $45 application fee per semester. TMS accepts payment by check or auto-debit for undergraduates. International students may utilize the plan via wire transfer. Inquiries about international wire transfers can be made by calling TMS at 800-205-4561. Enrollment for 2016–17 begins July 1 at afford.com or by calling TMS at 800-205-4561.

OTHER PAYMENT OPTIONS

Several independent organizations provide loan plans for parents and students to finance educational expenses on a installment basis. While the University does not specifically endorse these plans, it believes that they offer attractive alternatives to lump-sum payment or to Wesleyan’s Monthly Payment Plan and are worthy of consideration.

For more information about any of these plans, please visit the Office of Financial Aid website (wesleyan.edu/faid).

REFUNDS

The University does not make refunds of any credit balances automatically. A student must request a refund of credit balance in writing to the Student Accounts Office. A parent can request a refund only when the credit is due to a federal Direct PLUS Loan. When a student leaves the University for any reason during a semester, a graduated refund schedule based upon the period of the student’s enrollment determines the amount of the tuition refund. A copy of that schedule is available on the Student Accounts website. The housing portion of the Residential Comprehensive Fee will be pro-rated according to the number of days of occupancy beginning with the date semester housing opens. Dining refunds will be based on the unused portion of the plan at the time of the withdrawal. An optional undergraduate tuition insurance program, which extends above Wesleyan’s refund policy, is offered by A.W.G. Dewar, Inc. Application to Dewar must be made prior to the first day of class for more information, visit collegerefund.com.
The Office of Public Safety has trained officers, patrol personnel, and supervisors who patrol the campus on a 24-hour basis. Patrol individuals receive and maintain certification in CPR and First Aid as well as other areas related to Public Safety in an investigative capacity. Although Public Safety personnel cannot complete a criminal arrest, they are well-trained in public safety and may refer individuals to the police department.

The Office of Public Safety is responsible for the investigation and reporting of crimes and suspicious occurrences that may involve the University community. Reporting of crimes to Public Safety is not intended to relieve the individual student of their personal responsibility to ensure their safety. The University of Wesleyan encourages all students to contribute to their and others’ collective safety by taking precautions and by promptly reporting all criminal acts, suspicious circumstances, and accidents to the Office of Public Safety.

Admission: 860-685-3000  |  Fax: 860-685-3001  |  admission@wesleyan.edu

The Office of Admission values the relationship Wesleyan has with its family members of current students. Each year, a two-day program is held for high school juniors to introduce them to the college admission process. Information on dates and the agenda will be available in the events calendar. Look for Wesleyan’s Sons and Daughters program. Family Weekend is also a good time to attend information sessions in the Office of Admission or to take a student-led tour of the campus.

Should a sibling of a current student wish to schedule an interview or spend a night on campus, Sunday through Thursday (seniors only), please call the Office of Admission at 860-685-3000. Interviews may also be scheduled online at wesleyan.edu/admission/apply/interviews.html.

Office of the Registrar

The Office of the Registrar is responsible for students’ records, including their academic and nonacademic status, enrollment in the University, course registration, and grades. The office provides information on the academic calendar, deadlines, and course selection, and distributes the Course Supplement and student schedules. It is responsible for WebMaps, the university online course catalog, and schedules. The office also publishes final exam schedules, provides transcripts, processes enrollment certification forms, and records transfer credits.

Office of Financial Aid

Financial Aid: 860-685-2800  |  Fax: 860-685-2801  |  finalaid@wesleyan.edu

Emergency Preparedness System

wesleyan.edu/publicsafety/emergency-preparedness.html

As part of our emergency preparedness plan, Wesleyan has implemented a campus-wide emergency notification system (BlackBoard Connect) to alert students, faculty, and staff of various campus-wide emergencies such as catastrophic weather, accidents or other life-threatening situations. This notification system will call pre-determined offices, homes, and cell phones, as well as send both text and e-mail messages. At the start of each school year, we will conduct a test message to students, faculty, and staff. More information about our Emergency Preparedness system can be found online at wesleyan.edu/publicsafety/emergency-preparedness.html.

Parent Communication

wesleyan.edu  |  roth.blogs.wesleyan.edu  |  wesleyan.edu/parents

PARENT/GUARDIAN CONTACT INFORMATION

University Relations maintains parent contact information. If parent or guardian contact information should ever change or need to be updated, please contact the Office of Parent Programs at parents@wesleyan.edu.

Parents and Guardians will receive regular e-mail communication and infrequent snail mailings from Wesleyan.

EMERGENCY CONTACT INFORMATION

Students are required to submit the emergency contact information for two adults via their student E-portfolio. Students are responsible for maintaining and updating this information. If a student is involved in an emergency situation, Wesleyan staff members will contact these adults listed as emergency contacts for the student.

FERPA

Wesleyan administrators are constrained by FERPA. The Office of Alumni and Parent Relations will often post email messages sent to the on-campus community in the recent correspondence section of the Parents’ website: wesleyan.edu/parents.

SOME OF THE STUDENT SERVICES OFFERED THROUGH THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY INCLUDE:

• Free loan of portable electric engravers to mark valuable property in order to deter theft and to facilitate the return of items lost or stolen

• Registration of bicycles and personal property to expedite recovery if they are lost or stolen

• Free whistle/whistle safety program

SAFETY TIPS FOR YOUR STUDENTS’ VALUABLES INCLUDE:

• Students should keep their room and exterior doors locked. They also should require identification from service people who seek access to a room for cleaning or repairs.

• Students should never leave belongings/valuables unattended or unsecured.

• Parents should check whether their homeowners’ insurance policies cover valuables owned by their sons and daughters; students whose family insurance policies do not cover their belongings while at the University often may have an extension rider added at little extra cost.
Office of University Relations

The Office of University Relations develops and maintains a lifelong connection between Wesleyan and its alumni, parents, friends, and the local community. On-campus and regional events, career networking, volunteer support, and fundraising are just some of this office’s numerous activities.

Office of Alumni and Parent Relations

260-685-3756 | parents@wesleyan.edu

The Office of Alumni and Parent Relations serves as a liaison between parents and the University to encourage two-way communication. Parents are viewed as valuable members of the Wesleyan community. Among alumni, they are invited to attend and participate in Wesleyan events, on-campus and in their local areas. Staff members provide a framework in which parents can become involved in the following initiatives: facilitating WEseminars and other activities for Homecoming/Family Weekend, and Reunion & Commencement; improving the University’s communications with parents; assisting students in career networking through the Career Center; hosting events on campus and locally; helping to welcome families new to Wesleyan; and assisting with the Parents Fund.

Parent Giving

The financial support, in addition to tuition, that comes from parents is significant, whether as annual gifts to the Parents Fund or to a variety of other designated parent gifts. Parents gifts through the Wesleyan Parents Fund are an important part of Wesleyan’s efforts to fund academic programs, financial aid, and student activities. The Parents Fund, which accounts for close to 15 percent of the overall Wesleyan Annual Fund, allows Wesleyan to meet immediate operating needs and maintain accessibility to a broad range of talented and deserving students. Many other institutional priorities are achieved through the generosity of parents—both parents of current students and parents whose Wesleyan student has joined the ranks of our alumni. Among these restricted priorities are curricular initiatives and other academic purposes, new facility projects and building renovations, athletics, and endowed scholarships and fellowships, to name a few.

Since 1981, parents, alumni, and friends have made gifts to support academic excellence at Wesleyan. Each year, parents are invited to honor this tradition by making their own gifts to the Parents Fund, and when possible, to whatever specific purpose may be of greatest interest to the family and the Wesleyan student. This family conversation about giving helps to introduce and facilitate a lifelong commitment to philanthropy, another wonderful gift to the students of today.
