

Love is a Four-Letter Word

How My Life Changed My Writing and My Writing Changed My Life.

Tuesday, February 20, 2007

8 p.m. Russell House (Reception will follow)

A Lecture in Four Parts by Yael Hedaya

1. Innocence, Insecurity, Inspiration

Dramatic Persona

(Hanefashot Hapoalot)

My first book.

Or: How I miss being 25, heartbroken, and
unemployed in NYC.

2. *Love is a Four-Letter
Word*

Housebroken

My breakout book.

Or: How I learned writing, and men, are hard work.

3. Women Are Not from Venus, Men Are Not from Mars

Accidents

Love on Planet Tel-Aviv.

4. On Being Taken Seriously: A Journey from Hyper-Activeness to Hyperrealism

Eden

The attempt to write the Great Israeli Novel.

Yael Hedaya has published four novels: Dramatic Persona (1994), Housebroken (1997),
her best seller, Accidents (2001),
and her most acclaimed novel, Eden (2005). In addition, she has written screenplays for the Israeli TV series In Therapy which was recently sold to HBO.