

TENURE PROCESS: OVERVIEW

BASIC PRINCIPLES

- ❑ Power to confer tenure rests with the Board of Trustees
- ❑ The role of the faculty is to advise the President via the elected committees
- ❑ The President recommends candidates to the Board after making an independent decision, informed by the advice of the faculty and all accumulated evidence
- ❑ Tenure is based on excellence achieved, along with promise of continued excellence
- ❑ Excellence has been achieved in all three canonical areas: teaching, scholarship and collegueship

CRITERIA: PRESIDENTIAL STATEMENT

Click here to read full Presidential Statement

Excellence in all three areas (no “substitution”):

Scholarship [FH p. 125-126]

Teaching [FH p. 125-126]

Colleagueship [FH p. 125-126]

SCHOLARSHIP

Making significant & sustained contributions to one's field; being among the best scholars in the field at comparable career stage.

- ❑ Quality, quantity and pace
- ❑ Impact of scholarship
- ❑ Likelihood of future significant scholarly contributions
- ❑ Defined by departmental/program expectations
- ❑ Documented by peer reviewed publications, performances, and other peer-refereed works
- ❑ Supported by external referees

TEACHING

Refers primarily to classroom performance. Reveals excellence and promise of continued high quality. Basis of judgment:

- ❑ Candidate's Teaching Statement
- ❑ Teaching evaluations:
 - ❑ Course
 - ❑ Teaching
 - ❑ Effort
- ❑ Other supportive evidence such as syllabi, letters from co-teachers, colleagues in other departments or programs, letters from former students, departmental evaluations based on classroom visits, etc.
- ❑ Range of courses taught
- ❑ Pedagogical innovation

COLLEAGUESHIP

Shows constructive participation and accomplishments in the collegial life of the university.

- ❑ Departmental intellectual life, governance and other contributions
- ❑ University intellectual life and service
- ❑ Contributions go beyond “the classroom and special research interests”

Usual Time Line for Review of Tenure-Track Faculty

	Fall Semester	Spring Semester
Year 1	New Assistant Professor hired. Generally, contract is for four years.
Year 2		Second-year review
Year 3		Reappointment Review: If positive, new 4-yr contract begins fall of year 5. If negative, contract ends in spring of year 4.
Year 4	First sabbatical may be taken (often postponed to SP semester).
Year 5		Fifth-Year Review
Year 6
Year 7	Tenure Review: If positive, promoted to tenured Associate Professor effective fall year 8. If negative, contract ends in spring year 8.
Year 8	If positive tenure review, first semester as Associate	If negative tenure review, last semester as Assistant.

Notes:

1. Generally, the 2nd-year review takes place after completion of three semesters of teaching; and the 5-th year review takes place three semesters before the tenure review is due.
2. This schedule may be accelerated for various reasons, such as credit given for previous experience elsewhere, and may result in only one or two pre-tenure reviews.
3. The schedule may also be delayed, for example, due to parental leaves taken.
4. If the faculty member is appointed as of the spring semester, the entire schedule shifts to one semester later.
