Why I chose Wesleyan:

The people! No matter where you are, your classmates and peers will always define most of your time in college. At Wesleyan, every student is passionate about what they do. Whether in the classroom, on stage, or with their teammates, students are constantly doing what they love. The levels of freedom Wes students have allowed us to fill our time as we please.

Academic Interests:

The College of Social Studies, Government, Economics, Religion, and Data Analysis

Favorite class at Wes:

Religion 151: What is Religion

Current Classes:

CSS230: Sophomore Government Tutorial: State and Society in the Modern Age

CSS240: Sophomore History Tutorial: The Emergence of Modern Europe

Hist272: Law, Court, & Crime in England

Hist380: Labor & Religion in America

Why I want to be a tour guide:

Anyone who knows me will tell you that I talk a lot. Whether it be spending time with my friends or participating in one of several public speaking activities, getting to share my views has always been something I love. Getting to combine this with another thing I love--Wesleyan--seemed like a dream come true!

Outside the Classroom:

Extracurriculars:

Mock Trial

Wesleyan's Student

Government, the WSA

I live in the Sign Language

Program House

Favorite Activity at Wes:

Spending time with friends!

Favorite moment at Wes:

The first weekend of school, my friends and I stayed up super late talking and getting to know each other. These were the first people I befriended, and they're still my best friends to this day.

Favorite TV Show:

The West Wing

Favorite song:

Anna Sun, WALK THE MOON
Make You Mine, PUBLIC

Fun Fact:

I once broke my finger while jumping into a pool. Don't try to jump onto boogie boards! It won't end well.
