

History Courses in the Pre-industrial Era

History majors must complete at least one upper-level course (numbered 150 or higher) chiefly concerned with a preindustrial era, defined as follows: Europe and North America before 1760, Asia before 1800, Latin America before 1820, or Africa before 1870. The following History courses (not all taught in a given year) will fulfill the pre-industrial requirement of the History major. Your adviser can help you determine whether a course not included in this list will meet the requirement.
