CIGNA LIFESTYLE MANAGEMENT TOBACCO CESSATION PROGRAM

Offered by Cigna Health and Life Insurance Company or its affiliates
You have your hands full.

As part of your employer’s health plan offered through Cigna, you now have a variety of programs and services to help make your life easier — and healthier.
Myth 1: It’s okay if I only smoke on weekends.
Fact: Every cigarette you smoke damages your blood vessels and makes clots more likely to form, which can lead to heart attack or stroke.

Myth 2: I smoke light cigarettes because they’re not as bad for you.
Fact: You can breathe in just as much tar by smoking a “light” cigarette as a regular one. Science has proven calling cigarettes “light” to be misleading, and now it’s against the law to include “light” on the label.

Myth 3: I’ve smoked my whole life. There’s really no point in quitting now.
Fact: Quitting today could improve your quality of life for years to come. Your heart rate and blood pressure will decrease immediately, and your lungs will start to work more efficiently. Quitting gives your body an opportunity to heal. In just one year, your chance of heart disease is cut in half.

Myth 4: I switched to e-cigarettes – no worries here.
Fact: The aerosol in e-cigarettes can include nicotine, ultrafine particles and flavorings linked to lung disease and heavy metals. Since “vaping” is relatively new, we don’t yet know the long-term effects on health.
If you're tempted to use e-cigarettes, there are other questions you should ask.

Are they safe?

E-cigarettes turn nicotine and other ingredients into a vapor that is inhaled. The U.S. Surgeon General has concluded that e-cigarettes can expose users to potentially harmful chemicals. You should be concerned about knowing:

- If they are safe
- What chemicals they contain
- How much nicotine you are inhaling

Are they addictive?

E-cigarettes contain nicotine, which is a highly addictive substance. Additionally, these products are attractive to kids (particularly teens). A report by the U.S. Surgeon General found that using e-cigarettes is strongly associated with the use of other tobacco products among youth and young adults.

Health Benefits Start on Day One

Discover the immediate and long-term benefits of quitting smoking.

Immediate benefits*
Heart rate and blood pressure, which are abnormally high while smoking, begin to return to normal.

Twelve hours after quitting, the carbon monoxide level in your blood drops to normal. (Carbon monoxide reduces the blood’s ability to carry oxygen.)

Within two weeks of quitting, you might notice it’s easier to walk up the stairs because you may be less short of breath. Cilia – tiny broom-like hairs that clean your lungs – start to regrow and regain normal function very quickly after you quit smoking.

Within several months of quitting, people can expect substantial improvements in lung function.

Long-term benefits*
Quitting reduces the risk of cancer, heart disease and Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD).

Regardless of age, you are less likely to die from a smoking-related illness than those who continue to smoke.

Start to Quit

Prepare an action plan with these five steps.

1. Set a quit date. Pick a date within the next two weeks. Don’t choose a day where you know you will be busy, stressed or tempted to smoke.

2. Tell family and friends. Explain to them how they can help you quit and what your triggers are. Quitting is easier when you have support.

3. Anticipate and plan for challenges. Cravings and withdrawal are common. Avoid triggers – specific persons, places or activities that make you feel like smoking.

4. Remove cigarettes and lighters from your home, work and car. Don’t save one pack of cigarettes “just in case.” Remove the smell of smoke by cleaning your clothes, car and home.

5. Talk with your doctor or pharmacist about nicotine replacement therapy (NRT) options, such as gum, patches or lozenges.

6. Reward yourself. Celebrate being smoke free for 24 hours, one week and one month. Treat yourself with a nice dinner, a day at the movies or any other fun smoke-free activity.

You know you want to quit. The Tobacco Cessation Program can help you develop a personal plan to become and remain tobacco-free.

Joan smoked about a pack of cigarettes a day for 30 years. She never tried to quit before. And at age 51, she found herself facing several serious health problems. She had a high risk of heart attack, stroke and diabetes. She knew she needed to make a change. Joan felt very alone, but she wasn’t. Cigna’s Tobacco Cessation Program was there for her. For every step of her journey.

Help was just a call away
Joan contacted Cigna’s Tobacco Cessation Program and talked with a wellness coach. On the first call, Joan’s coach told her about different ways to quit smoking.
- Joan chose a method known as nicotine fading.
- She eventually moved to nicotine replacement therapy gum.
- She got down to 1–2 cigarettes a day.
- Joan worked with her coach about how to quit completely.

Overcoming Barriers
Not smoking at work was hard for Joan. Her coworker wasn’t supportive of her healthy changes. And when she stopped taking smoke breaks, she stopped taking breaks altogether. This increased her stress levels. Together, Joan and her coach worked to:

- Manage Stress Triggers
- Take regular breaks during the workday

Breathing in success
Joan weaned herself off cigarettes and quit for good. She also gained new confidence in herself. She told her coworker that she was quitting and would not be joining her for smoke breaks. Just three days later, her coworker also quit smoking.
Joan reached her goal. She felt so good about herself that she also joined Cigna’s Weight Management Program.
