Advisors Requirements

Listed below are the research interests (in italics) and requirements psychology faculty have specified for students who wish to complete thesis research with professors. Also noted is whether professors will be accepting thesis students.

Accepting Thesis Students:

Professor Sarah Carney

Law and psychology
- PSYC277 Psychology and the Law and/or PSYC213 Research Methods in Social Psychology or a different course with Professor Carney with a minimum grade of B.
- Please contact Professor Carney to discuss your thesis ideas and to request thesis advising no later than your second semester of your junior year.
- Thesis proposal (if applicable) must be completed prior to the start of the senior year.
- Accepting thesis students

Professor Royette Dubar

Sleep, psychosocial adjustment, technology use and wellbeing
Statistics and research methods courses (prior to senior year).
- Statistics and research methods course in psychology (completed by first semester of junior year).
- PYSC 214 (Research methods in Sleep Research) or PSYC 386 (Advanced Research in Sleep)
- Previous lab experience in the S.P.A Lab (in the absence of previous lab experience, I will consider students who completed either PSYC 248 or PSYC 343 with me).
- Accepting thesis students.

Professor Youssef Ezzyat

Memory organization; electrophysiology of learning; computational modeling
- PSYC225 or PSYC240/NS&B213, minimum grade B+
- PSYC200 or equivalent prior to senior year
- Research experience with Professor Ezzyat prior to senior year
- Accepting thesis students

Professor Barbara Juhasz

Reading in adults, general visual cognition
- Research with Professor Juhasz prior to senior year.
- Statistics prior to senior year.
- Accepting thesis students.

Professor Kyungmi Kim

Memory; factors affecting memory processes; the role of “self” and “emotion” in cognition
- PSYC220 Cognitive Psychology, or another course with Professor Kim.
- Research experience with Professor Kim prior to the end of the junior year.
- Contact Professor Kim with request for thesis advising no later than February of junior year.
• Draft of a thesis prospectus (2-4 pages) due before mid-semester break spring semester of junior year for consideration
• Accepting thesis students.

Professor Matthew Kurtz
Identification and treatment of neuropsychological deficits in schizophrenia
• Statistics course in psychology or in another department.
• Research with Professor Kurtz by first semester of junior year.
• Accepting thesis students.

Professor Alexis May
Etiology, trajectory, and prevention of suicidal thoughts and behaviors, nonsuicidal self-injury, intervention development
• Statistics and quantitative research methods courses completed by end of the first semester of the junior year.
• Research with Professor May prior to the end of the junior year.
• PSYC251 Psychopathology completed by the end of the junior year.
• Draft of a thesis proposal (2-4 pages) due by mid-semester break of spring semester of junior year for consideration.
• Accepting thesis students.

Professor Jill Morawski
History of psychology, social psychology, psychology of gender, science studies, feminist studies
• Course with Professor Morawski.
• Contact Professor Morawski with request for thesis advising no later than March of junior year.
• Accepting thesis students.

Professor Andrea Patalano
Cognitive psychology of judgment, decision making, and reasoning
• Coursework in cognitive psychology and/or decision making.
• Coursework in statistics and behavioral research methods.
• Prior research lab experience with Professor Patalano.
• Discussion of request with professor by mid junior year.
• Accepting thesis students.

Professor Charles Sanislow
Psychopathology mechanisms, transdiagnostic constructs, and clinical and affective neuroscience
• PSYC251 Psychopathology completed by the end of the junior year (earlier is better, but not required).
• Advanced Research Methods with Professor Sanislow prior by first semester of junior year.
• Draft of a thesis proposal (2-5 pages) due by mid-semester break of spring semester during junior year.
• Research design for thesis project completed by the end of spring semester of junior year (ideal) or by the end of summer before senior year.
• Accepting thesis students.

Professor Emeritus Karl Scheibe
“I taught in Wesleyan’s Psychology Department from 1963-2005, and since then directed the Wasch Center for Retired Faculty, until 2016. My interests are in the connections between psychology and theater, in addictive disorder, and in the Narrative Approach to Psychological Theory and Practice. I have special interests in William James, Erving Goffman, George Orwell, Jose’ Ortega y Gassett among others. I am a licensed clinical psychologist and maintain a modest private practice. “

Not Accepting Thesis Students:

Professor Hilary Barth

Cognition and development

- PSYC220 Cognitive Psychology, PSYC230 Developmental Psychology, or a different course with Professor Barth, minimum grade of B+.
- Research experience with Professor Barth prior to senior year.
- Contact Professor Barth to discuss your request for thesis advising at the beginning of the second semester of junior year, or earlier.
- Not Accepting thesis students.

Professor Lisa Dierker

Development of substance abuse and dependence

- PSYC200 Statistics or PSYC211 Research Methods in Clinical Psychology with Professor Dierker or QAC201 Applied Data Analysis.
- Not Accepting thesis students.

Professor Scott Plous

Prejudice and discrimination, ethical issues relating to animals and the environment, the development of mobile and web-based psychology

- Psychological Statistics.
- One course with Professor Plous.
- Not Accepting thesis students.

Professor Patricia Rodriguez Mosquera

Culture, ethnicity, gender; emotions; insult and devaluation; honor; social-image

- Statistics and research methods courses in psychology.
- Prior research with Professor Rodriguez Mosquera (for work study, as a volunteer, or as an individual tutorial for credit).
- Not Accepting thesis students.

Professor Anna Shusterman

Language and conceptual development, language and thought, spatial and numerical reasoning

- Recommended: Research methods, statistics, & PSYC230 Development Psychology.
- Required: one course with Prof. Shusterman.
- Thesis projects are usually reserved for students who begin joint work with Prof. Shusterman before the fall of senior year.
- Not Accepting thesis students.

Professor Steven Stemler
Intelligence, psychometrics, educational psychology, conflict resolution

- PSYC245 Psychological Measurement, PSYC253 Educational Psychology or research with Professor Stemler for at least one semester.
- Not Accepting thesis students.